Professionalism

It's not something that ends every day at five. It's turning all your talents to one purpose: serving your clients. It's knowing the field, and knowing that every client is unique. It's being efficient and creative. It's going beyond the conventional to find the most appropriate solution. It's always demanding. If you're looking for a financial advisor who shares your commitment to professionalism, come to us. Or if you prefer, we'll come to you.

ARMAND I. ROBINSON,
EDITOR

Fellow Members of the Bar:

We proudly celebrate this 50th edition of The Legal Register which reflects its continuing purpose—helping the practicing lawyer and the surrounding legal community. It remains the most widely used legal directory in the metropolitan area, on the desks and in the briefcases of more than 15,000 lawyers, judges and court and government personnel.

Why? It's useful – it's handy – it's simple and it changes.

NEW in 2004. E-mail addresses included in the individual listings in the Attorney Register Section.

Along with the three Regional Attorney Registers, the Law Firm Register and the Sole Practice Register are major components. Courts, judges, selected federal, state and municipal offices, Bar groups, selected advertisers and frequently referred to telephone numbers complete the contents.

Following more than 2,000 attorney register listings you will note three capital letters in bold face which represent a particular law firm. The capital letters in bold face within a parenthesis indicate that lawyer's status in the firm as (A) Associate, (C) Counsel, (D) Director, (M) Member, (OC) Of Counsel, (F) Partner, (SC) Special Counsel. The lawyers' names which appear in The Law Firm Register are emphasized in bold face caps and lower case letters in the appropriate Attorney Registers. Check those three letter codes in The Law Firm Register Section to learn more about that lawyer's firm. Such bold face emphasis of these law firms also appears in the online edition of The Legal Register. Visit legalregister.com to see the benefits of listing your firm.

Extra copies of The Legal Register are available for yourself, staff, out-of-town lawyers etc. Use the Order Card on the last page. To add, correct or delete a name, use the Listing Card on the last page. Tell your colleagues to get on board for the 51st edition. One listing is free.

Patronize our selected group of advertisers.

I would be delighted to hear from you with any comments.

Sincerely yours,

Armand I. Robinson, Editor

Washington, DC 20036

Dear Armand:

The Bar Association of the District of Columbia wishes to thank you once again for publishing The Legal Register. For fifty years you have provided a unique and invaluable service to bench and bar. I do not know of any practicing lawyer or sitting judge who can afford to be without this directory.

I look forward to The Legal Register being available to our members for many years to come. The Washington D.C. legal community grows in size and diversity every year and your publication is the best single resource we have to keep current with our community.

Sincerely yours,

Nicholas S. McConnell
President

District of Columbia

---

*There is a charge for listing of firms and individuals in this section. The asterisk (*) beside some names notes that the lawyer was not an Active member of the District of Columbia Bar on the date the listing was submitted. The two letter abbreviation for one of our states beside such names may indicate that the lawyer, though not at this time a member of the District of Columbia Bar, is a member of the bar of that particular state.*

*The two letter abbreviation for one of our states beside the names without the asterisk (*) indicates that the lawyer is a member of the bar of that particular state or states, as well as an active member of the District of Columbia Bar.*

In the Attorney Registers . . .

The three letter code found beside the name of some lawyers corresponds to the code used to identify the law firm in The Law Firm Register section. The letters P, A, C, CL, OC, PA, SC appearing after the three letter firm code have the following meaning: P = partner, principal, stockholder, shareholder, or member; A = associate; C = counsel, CL = contract lawyer, OC = of counsel, PA = participating associate, SC = special counsel.

Beside the name of some lawyers you will note this symbol ***. Check that name in the The Sole Practice Register for more information about that lawyer and his/her practice.
