Dear Howard:

I have enclosed the Kastenmeier amendments to the Patent Restoration bill which were adopted by his Subcommittee last month. Of particular interest to universities might be amendment 1 which grants restoration to the "recipient of market approval" rather than the patent owner. Please let me know if this is as bad for universities as I suspect.

I have also enclosed two amendments by Representative Railsback which were also adopted along with the article from the Washington Post which we discussed.

Sincerely,

Joseph P. Allen
