Dear Mr. Bremer:

Mr. Frankel, Mr. Sparling and I very much appreciate your and Mr. Fornell's kindness in meeting with us on the government patent policy question. We found your comments most insightful and interesting. Your views on the necessity for close cooperation between the inventor and the licensing authority in a successful licensing program were especially helpful to me and clearly have great relevance in the government licensing context.

I certainly intend to take you up on your kind offer of continued cooperation if additional questions should arise.

Sincerely,

Robert V. Allen
