Dear Dan:

I have your letter of October 7 regarding a proposed session here in Madison. Howie Bremer told me that he ran into you in New York week before last and alerted me to the fact that you had indicated that you would like to visit Madison for a session.

I would like very much to get together with you in the near future and suggest that we take steps promptly to set up a date. For your information, we are having a tax conference with Norm Sugarman, who is coming up from Cleveland, and others on Wednesday of next week, October 21, and I am hoping that in that meeting we will develop some conclusions or positions as a result of the ruling in your case. I, therefore, suggest that you visit here after our October 21 session.

The way my calendar looks now, we might meet here on October 22 or 23, or the following week on October 27, 28 or 29. We have a Board meeting on October 30 and 31. So, those two days are out. On the ensuing week of November 2 I will be pretty much tied up on November 2 and 3, but the balance of the week, November 4, 5 and 6, looks clear.

Why don't you give me a ring later this week, or early next week and see what we can set up?

Best personal regards,

Ward Ross,
Managing Director
